Subject: Nancy Ann Iler 18556 NY38

Hello Morgan

I've come across a little road block and was wondering if you could possibly help? It concerns Nancy Ann Iler (18556 NY38). Here is what I have. According to Homer Eiler's book page 8, Jacob Iler Jr & his wife Mary McLain had 7 children; Jackson, Jacob III, Mary, Susanna, Catherine, Lewis and Louisa, with no mention of a Nancy Ann. I know that Homer's records aren't always to be trusted. A couple of days ago I received a copy of the 1850 Census of Marion Township, Hancock County, Ohio, from the Findlay-Hancock Public Library. The listing as of August 1850 shows the following for the same residence: Jacob Iler 38, Mary 35, Jackson 15, Mary Ann 11, Susanna 8, Catherine 3, Lewis 5/12, John Iler 18 (18557 NY11), and Jacob Iler 84 (18354 NY), again no mention of a Nancy Ann.

Jacob III died 25 Feb 1847 & Louisa wasn't born until 28 Feb 1852. So if there was a Nancy Ann, she would have been 10 years of age at the time of the census, and if she would have probably lived with her parents if not dead.

I then went over a Descendants of Jacob Iler Sr. that you had sent me way back in March of 1999. You list = iv. Nancy Ann; b. 1840. Source: 44. As of 1860, the address of Nancy Ann Iler was Marion Twp, Hancock, OH. I was wondering if you could tell me what the source 44 is? I'm puzzled as to if this information is correct and if there really was a Nancy Ann Iler?

I'm attaching a file showing what I have on Jacob Jr.s family. I hope you can open the Acrobat Reader file, if not let me know and I'll send it another way.

I hope that I'm not bothering you,
George

SEVENTH ANNUAL REUNION OF THE EILER FAMILY
(Ann Hartley Grove, Near Arnold, Md)
BRIEF SUMMARY OF FAMILY PROCEEDINGS
Aug. 2, 1942

I. HOW IS THE NAME TO BE SPELLED?

A. SWISS FORM: EULER. (Pronounced OYLER or ILER)
a. Ernest Drum, genealogist, Zweibrucken, Palatinate, said in 1938 communication that all our family by any name started in Switzerland and some of them are still there. Others came down the Rhine and later scattered over Germany and to the New World at various dates.
B. GERMAN FORM: EILER. (Pronounced OYLER or ILER)
a. There is an ILLER river in Bavaria, but EILER is the correct form.
C. AMERICAN FORM: EILER, EILAR, EYLER, OYLER, ILLER, UHLER.
a. There is an EYLER VALLEY and the old EYLER HOMESTEAD out the Great Road from Emmit to Frederick, Md., says L.Ralston Goldsborough, Rm. 2, Pythian Castle Bldg, Frederick, Maryland.
b. Our own ancestor, according to our best recorded information, signed his name CONRAD EILER, but it appears in legals as EYLER and in some church records as EULER.

II. WHY DID WE COME TO AMERICA?

A. FREEDOM OF WORSHIP.
a. Sept. 15, 1729, Alexander Mack brought 126 Palatinates on the Ship Allen from Rotterdam, via Cowes. They were Brethren, Dunkards, or German Baptists escaping religious persecution. They settled in Pennsylvania near the Maryland state line and became law-abiding, religious, peace-loving people. They owned land and followed the trades they had learned in the Old Country.
b. In this group were Conrad Eiler, his family, including Jacob and Valentine, his neighbors, the Snidors, Arners, Weigles, Culps, etc.
c. In 1738 Conrad Eyler and sons Jacob and Valentine took out warrants for 200 acres, each, of land, at Digg's Choice. This land crossed disputed state lines and was partly in Maryland.
d. In 1740 JACOB EULER sponsored the first Lutheran Baptism. The name was given the original Swiss spelling by Rev. Casper Stover, who knew the family background intimately.
e. In 1771 VALENTINE EILER and wife SUSANNAH EILER bought a tract of land known as Muddy Spring of Daniel Cooper, near Iler's Character, in Maryland, Frederick County.
f. In 1778 VALENTINE EILER and wife SUSANNAH EILER sold this land, on the request of a Conrad Gillen.
g. Valentine and wife were members of the Brethern Church in colonial days, says the History of the Brethren Church. Susannah Eiler's headstone says she died in 1838 and had been a member of the German Baptist Church for 75 years.

III. MIGRATION TO CANADA IN THE WINTER OF 1779;
A. FREEDOM OF WORSHIP AGAIN THE MOTIVE.
a. The Detroit Library gives among the first settlers on Gros Isle a JACOB EILER. He was married and migrated with family and neighbors.
b. "OUR ANCESTORS" by Homer Eiler, 1518 Grote Ave., Topeka, Kansas, says little is known if Jacob's origin, but 'he was very religious, a Lutheran, and a Potter by trade."
c. We seem on sure ground when we assume that this JACOB EILER was the JACOB EYLER of the 1729 migration and the 1738 land grant, and oldest son of CONRAD EILER. 32
d. We know that our VALENTINE EILER, whose wife was Susannah Culp, went to Gros Isle in 1779 because as a member of the Brethren Church in colonial days he had remained true to his peace principles and was persecuted by neighbors who thought he should take up arms.
e. In the group who went to Canada were the Eilers, Snidors, Arners, Weigles, and others. Here SAMUEL EILER was born in 1791.

I am looking for any information and descendents of Oliver Iler, who married Amelia Beacox, (born about 1840) in Seneca County, OH. In the 1880 census, Amelia was a widow in Superior, Williams, Ohio. I think Oliver was significantly older than Amelia and was previously married to Catherine Warrick

FORMER XL9

Listed with Amelia in the 1880 census are children:

Mary ILER 56617
Born:1860at:Ohio

Arletta ILER 56613
Born:1862at:Ohio

I think that this is also possibly a daughter:

Laura H. ILER 14276
Born: at:Ohio
Married:16 May, 1875at: Williams Co, Ohio
Spouse:Blair HAGGERTY 14277

58191 58192

Amelia was the daughter of George Beacock/Beacox and Laura Seaton. Some of Amelia's family was in Stark and Fulton Counties, Ohio. Amelia's siblings were Amanda, Leonard, Arletta (m. Brown), Aurilla (m. Murphy), Sophronia (m. Brinkman). Sister Sophronia Beacox Brinkman was also in Superior in the 1880 census with her husband and children.

Does any of this sound familiar? Any connections? I haven't been able to trace any further and I'd love to share some information.

I have found Oliver Iler and Catherine Warrick. Married in Seneca Co, Ohio 12 March 1843. Daughter was Hannah E. Iler who married James M. Miller in Lone Rock, WI 10 August 1871. Hannah was born in 1847. She died in 4 April 1875 from complications with childbirth at age 28. My wife is decended from that line. Miller, Hart, Pahl, Roberts.

Of interest is an earlier post to this forum. Ollie M.Iler 1890-1988 Iowa - Gail 4/14/02. Could this be Oliver Iler? I have not found Oliver Iler in Seneca Co except for the marriage. This information I found on LDS Familysearch.org.

Good luck with your research and let me know if interested in the James Miller / Hannah Iler line. She is buried in Lloyd, Richland Co. Wisconsin.

I'm seeking info on "Marcus Oiler", "Mark Iler" that went to Adams Co., MS about 1780. He was married to Jemina at the Military Post of Arkansas. I believe this was his 2nd marriage. He had 3 sons, Jonas, Jacob, and Abraham.
Can you help me with any info on the Mark Iler who sold the land in VA?

Thanks!

Ann,

In my research on Mrs. Jemima Hootsell, I find that my ggg-grandfather, Abram ILER son of Mrs. Jemima Hootsell had petition the court in Adams Co, MS to recover a tract of land as heir to Mark ILER. Mrs Jemima Hootsell stated in the petition that she was married to Mark ILER at the Military Post of Arkansas.
Mark OILER had received land located on St. Catherine Creek in Adams Co, MS from the Spanish government.
Jonas ILER, Abram's older brother had sold the land and was a minor at the time of the sale. Jonas was deceased when the petition was filed.

In 1805 Abram ILER and Jacob EILER signed an agreement as they did recover the land.

Jemima was married to James LEWIS when in 1796 she had a will leaving 1/5 equally to her 5 children, Abram HYLER, and 4 HUTZELL children, William, John, Joseph, and Catherine.

I believe Jonas and Jacob to be Mark ILER's sons by a previous marriage. Mark died in 1789. I have not discovered Jemima's surname.

Ann, I doubt if this land dispute has anything to do with the Humble Oil lawsuit. So the mystery goes on.

Christina Harriet Oyler, 83, Marion, died at 1 a.m. today in the Wabash County Hospital.

Born in Piper City, Ill., May 12, 1892, she was the daughter of Charles A. and Mary A. (Pearson) Petterson.

She married Reed N. Oyler on Sept. 3, 1919, in Converse. He survives.

Mrs. Oyler was a schoolteacher prior to their marriage. She was a member of the Richland Chapel Church and an associate member of the Cart Creek Farm Club.

Other survivors are five sons, Lewis R., Maurice E. and Paul M. Oyler, all of Marion; Lowell E. Oyler, Sweetser, and Myron E. Oyler, Muncie. One brother, John C. Petterson, Marion, survives along with 13 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

The funeral will be at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Larrison-Martin Funeral Home, Converse, with the Rev. Donald Duggelby officiating. Burial will be in Mississinewa Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 4 p.m. tomorrow.

THE FRANCES SLOCUM TRAIL

"There is no place in the Old Northwest Territory where you can travel twenty-five miles on a public highway along which there has been more history, romance, and tragedy than on the Frances Slocum Trail."

This brief statement by Hal Phelps of Peru will express what the above map aims to show. The Mississinewa is one of the most interesting rivers of our country. Here the Indian lingered on his reservations long after he had lost his lands in other parts of Indiana and the Northwest. The story of Frances Slocum and of her long life among the Indians, and how she was found by her eastern relatives after a search of nearly sixty years is one of the most thrilling of all American stories. Here was the last tribal home of the Miami Indians, and here their last chief, Meshingomesia, lived. Here are the cemeteries and graves of the departed Red Men. Here was fought the second largest Indian battle in the state. Its importance has been overlooked by historians. Two great American poets, Joaquin Miller and James Whitcomb Riley, once roamed along the Mississinewa and wrote of the thrills that it gave them. "On the Banks of the Old Mississinewa" by Ren Frank Huston, is one of the most beautiful state songs ever written.

The Frances Slocum Trail reaches not only these places of romance and history, but it also leads to many park and camp sites. This part of Indiana needs more parks and camps. More and more people are beginning to realize the importance of the Mississinewa in its historical, literary and scenic places. The Frances Slocum Trail will some day be one of the most popular drives in Indiana.

Here is one of the most interesting monuments in America. It is visited each year by hundreds from all parts of the country. It was erected to the memory of Frances Slocum, who was stolen at the age of five, from her home in Wilkes Barre, Pa. Here she was found in 1837 by her aged brothers, 59 years after her capture by the Indians. She had spent most of her life among the Miamis. Here on the beautiful Mississinewa, by a bountiful spring she and her husband chief had built a substantial home. Here she died and was buried in 1847. She has many descendents living today.

Meshingomesia

THE MISSISSINEWA INDIAN RESERVATION

The last Indian reservation in Indiana extended for ten miles along the Mississinewa River in Grant and Wabash Counties. Here Meshingomesia was the chief of his tribe from 1833 - 1839. This was the last tribal reservation of the great Miami Nation. Within this territory are many places of state and national interest: The Battlefield of the Mississinewa where Col. John Campbell with a part of Gen. Harrison's army fought the Indians Dec. 18, 1812; the Indian Village and Cemetery where Meshingomesia and many of his Indians became Christians and where they are buried; the site of Metothpahs village which Col. Campbell destroyed. Here lives Chester Troyer, three times born king of the world. Here are the Wauconda church and cemetery where that noted Indian raised his large family. Here is the cabin of John Hewenan, the last Indian on the reserve and the oldest Indian in Indiana.

This is typed from a blurry, water soaked letter found in Reed N. Oyler's old day book.

Hello Lowell (When Lowell was in the Army) (1942-46)

My great-granddad, Lewis Oyler, who married a Roupe came from south of Roanoke, Franklin County, Va in 1834 ? not sure of the date. John Valentine was 7 yrs old, a brother to grandpa. Henry who died in Iowa when a young man (single). Two girls, one married a Shortridge, they lived in Montana or Idaho. The other was Cora Ewing and Nettie Alber's mother.

Great granddad left 8 or 9 brothers in Va, who were in the civil war. Ed (Oyler) says that is about all I know of my ancestors.

I told you once of Rosella Shortridge who lived in Seattle when Merritt Oyler called on her.

Uncle John Oyler's middle name was Roupe.

Grandpa John V. Oyler's first wife was a Coble, a sister to Bill Coble, who lived where P. Minnick does. They had two, Milo Oyler, who died as a young man and Melvina Oyler Long. John V. second wife was Adaline Brady. They had William, Lewis (my dad), Mary Jane (died when sixteen), John R., and Edward. That's about all I can tell you.

Mom says this sounds crazy.

I've heard grandpa say that when he was a baby his mother would nurse him on one side and a nigger baby(whose mother worked in the fields) on the other.

Lewis Oyler (Dad's great grandfather) was a slave driver in Virginia. They came by ox team through Columbus, Ohio and settled east of Wabash near Lagro. Lewis Oyler help dig the canal that went through Wabash. Later he got a sheepskin deed from the government for that farm north of Somerset. I think he died in 1865. The year my father was born.

(Signed) Dad (Reed N. Oyler)

P.S. Save this as it may be of value to you some time away up in the future.

(Signed) Mom (Christina H. Oyler)

EVIDENCE OF THE OYLER FAMILY IN AMERICA

The so-called old High Germans were the educated class of people and they spoke the correct German language while the "Low Germans" spoke the dialects of their various localities.

There were a great number of the educated class of people in the Baptist Congregation which originated in 1708 near Schuartzenan, a rough and rocky country in the vicinity of Berlenburg in Wittgenstein in the Palantinate of Westphalia.

The founder, Alexander Mack, a rich miller and landowner, and a few of his friends fled to Schuartzenan from the turmoil in Schrieshiem, Un Der Bergstrasse, caused by his teaching religion as it was taught by Christ in the Bible. Mack was the first to declare baptism by immersion in clear flowing water. This Schuartzenan congregation flourished and became numerous under the protection of mild Prince Henry. But at his death in 1720 they were again thrust out by the ruthless persecution of the Catholics, this time in the War of the Spanish Succession.

They escaped by the thousands into Westervain, West Freisland, Holland. In due course of time they departed for America motivated by the desire to escape the destructive wars, religious persecutions and oppressions of the tyrannical rulers. And too they had heard extravagant accounts of the opportunities in the promised land. They had the hope of religious freedom, peace and plenty in America. Thus we have the unparalleled example in history of the migration of an entire religious group. Many of them became known as the "Pennsylvania Dutch" because of their stay in Holland.

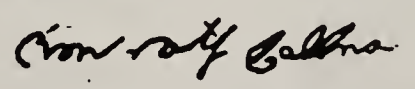
The journey to Pennsylvania for 110,000 Germans from 1727 to 1775 was very hard. It usually lasted from May until October. The Rhine boats had to pass twenty-six custom houses from Heilbronn to Holland. The officers took their time in examining the people, detaining them about six weeks so they would spend all their money. They were detained likewise in Holland causing them to spend nearly all they had. The second stage of the journey was to an English Port, usually Cowes. In England the poor people were detained another two weeks. From there the ships sailed eight to ten weeks depending on the wind.

This stage of the journey was marked by great suffering and hardship. The people were packed together like sardines. They were not given proper food and water. They were soon subject to the diseases of scurvy, dysentry, smallpox and typhoid fever. The children died first. The passengers cried and prayed most piteously during storms and heavy gales.

Amongst the colony of thirty Baptist or Dunker families that emigrated from West Friesland, Holland, with Alexander Mack, founder of the faith, was the one of Conrad Oeller, a "High German." They sailed from Rotterdam on the good ship, Allen, James Craig, Master. Their last port was Cowes in the Isle of Weight. Leaving there 7 July 1729, they arrived in Philadelphia, 11 September 1729.

Conrad is listed by Captain Craig as Conrat Iller with four females, Margaret, Elizabeth, Maria, and Catherine. That he had two sons and another daughter there is ample evidence in the early records of Pennsylvania. Perhaps children under a certain age were not listed by the captain. Conrad signed the ship list as Coonrood Oellen or Oeller.

15 September 1729, Conrad signed the Oath of Allegiance at the Philadelphia Courthouse. Herewith is a transcription of his original signature of that date:



The name Oeller or Oellen or proper High German "Ouler"—one who hunts owls—is found spelled a number of ways in the early records of Pennsylvania. The ministers of the various churches usually wrote the name Eiler or Eular, while it is recorded as Eyler in the tax lists and land deeds. From about 1780 the family itself has consistently spelled their name Oyler or Oiler.

The earliest record of Conrad is found in Lancaster County land grants where he is given a warrant for 200 acres, 3 October 1738. His son, Jacob Eyler, was likewise granted 200 acres the same day. Their land was west of the Susquehannah River. Conrad had settled on his land about 1734. When York County was formed in 1749 it took in Conrad and Jacob's land.

From land deeds and marriage bonds the following family group has been compiled for Conrad Oeller or Eyler or Americanized Oyler.

CONRAD OYLER I, EMIGRANT, AND WIFE, MARGARET (T)

MD. in Holland or Germany

Issue

1. Elizabeth Oyler, b. about 1714, in Europe, md. Laurentz Schnep. Resided at Atkins River, North Carolina.

FIRST GENERATION IN AMERICA
*VALENTINE OYLER I

Valentine the First, states that he was twenty-four at the time of a land disposition suit in 1746. This would make him a lad of seven when the family landed in America in the year 1729. His name is found throughout the early records of Lancaster and York Counties in Pennsylvania, viz.:

Valentine Eyler was Constable of Manheim Township in 1749, in 1751 he is supervisor and by 1755 he is Overseer. He is on the Tax lists 1762. According to the private records of Jacob Lischey V.D., Valentine Eiler and wife, Apollonia, have a son, Johanse, baptized, 1 June 1746, a daughter, Margaretha, baptized, 11 February 1752, and a son, Elias Daniel, baptized, 15 February 1758. Apollonia appears as sponsor for the baptisms of the children of Fredrick Gelwick who is married to Valentine's sister, Maria. Elias Daniel Gelwicks is sponsor for the baptism of Valentine and Apollonia's son, Elias Daniel. This is significant in that Apollonia may be a Gelwick, Galuix or Gilbert.

She died between the years 1758 and 1776, for in 1776 Valentine and wife, Susanna, of Manheim, sold land which originally belonged to Conrad Eyler the First. Conrad had died in 1751 and his children sold their share of his property to their brother Valentine.

Valentine settled over in Menellan Township, in York County, for we find him there in the first census or taxables in 1783 listed as Valentine Oyler (note the name is now spelled Oyler) where he has 154 acres, 1 house, 1 outhouse, 3 horned cattle, 4 sheep, 3 inhabitants. Valuation 133 Pounds, tax 4. 5. 11. His will was probated 21 April 1790, in Menellan, York County, Pa.

From the foregoing and from various wills, deeds and records on file in Lancaster, York and Adams Counties, in Pennsylvania this family group record has been compiled for Valentine Oyler I.

*SECOND GENERATION IN AMERICA

VALENTINE OYLER II

Valentine is pronounced Veltin or Feldin in the German. In the Revolutionary War records Felty Oyler, a member of the Fifth Class of the inhabitants of Menallen, York County, Pennsylvania, was classified under the Act of the Assembly, passed in 1780, entitled an act to complete the quota of the Federal Army. Each class was required to provide in fifteen days from this date, 30 January 1781, one able bodied recruit for the Continental Army, to serve during the war under penalty of 15 pound fine. No record whether Veltin satisfied the requisition. (Class Lists; Young, Black Series, p. 173)

There is no further record of Valentine Oyler II, in York County, other than being named in his father's will and in the will of Jacob Arndt as the husband of his daughter Molly.

Franklin County, Virginia, was formed in February 1786. It was settled largely by German and Dutch people from Pennsylvania. Moreover many German soldiers fought in the Revolution in this section and later returned to settle the land. Many of the early records of the parent's consent for daughters to marry are in German script.

Valentine Oyler was deeded one hundred and fifty acres of land on Gill's Creek near Benjamin Greer's land, 2 March 1789, by Skelton Taylor and wife, Sarah. Oyler Creek is mentioned in Franklin County, as early as May 1786, when the Court appointed a survey of the road from Shooting Creek to Oyler Creek.

The last will and testament of Valentine Oyler, Sr. was probated in Franklin County Court at Rockymount, 5 August 1825. He names wife, Mary M, and eleven children. It was a number of years before his estate was finally settled. It is interesting to note that his estate was charged eight dollars for the pine boards and labor of making his coffin.

This family group for Valentine Oyler II, and wife has been compiled from the Franklin County Marriage Bonds, 1830, 40 and 50 Census, Land Deeds and other early records of Franklin County, Virginia.

The OYLER history in this album will be with: Conrad Oyler to Valentine Oyler I To Valentine Oyler II, Then from his son Lewis #8 ~~born 1798~~, Franklin, County, VA. Which is near Roanoke, VA. The Letter by Polly (Arndt) Oyler is

MARY ARNDT OYLER'S LETTER 1825

Franklin, Virginia
December 13th, 1825

Dear Children:

I once more embrace an opportunity of writing you a few lines informing you that through the blessings of divine proivdence we are all enjoying common health, and hope these few lines may find each of you and the residue of your families blest with the same inestimable enjoyment—

It falls to my lot to announce to you the painful intelligence of your father's Death. He departed this life the 8th of November after an excruciating illness of ten days. He is gone and passed that journey from whence no traveler returns and the time may not be far distant whence each of us may follow him and embark from life's narrow isthmus into that dread futurity which borders on it— Death sooner or later is the invisible door of all Adam's progeny, none is so small as to escape the grim monster's notice, none is any so great as to meet with his favor and live forever— from the King to the begger all must bow to his all piercing arrow and be consigned to the dust from whence man was first taken.

Nor is death all for us as it is appointed for man once to die, so after this the Judgment— if Christ is our friend we shall be forever happy, if, not we shall be to everlasting punishment worlds without end—

Therefore Dear, very Dear children, set thine house in order for thou must surely die. Live today as you wish to die tomorrow, that when Death comes, you may be prepared and tender up your accounts with joy and not with grief.

Before your father's departure from life he made a will and left all the estate, both real and personal, to me during my life and when it pleases the Almighty to call me hence, it is to be equally divided amongst all our children. Your brothers John and Jacob are appointed executors— We should all of us be glad to see and hear from you oftener, for the next pleasure to seeing you is hearing from you.

Corn is selling $2 to $2.50 per barrel, wheat at 67 cents per bushel, pork at $4 per 100— Tobacco in the Lynchburg market $5 to $11 per 100. Other articles in proportion.

Each of your brothers and sisters desires to be remembered to you and each individual of your families in the most affectionate manner. My son David Oyler is living in the house with me. Lewis is living on the same Plantation.

Write to us and direct your letters to Booths Store, Franklin County, Virginia. I conclude dear children wishing your welfare in this world and your everlasting happiness in the world to come. I remain your loving mother until death do us part. To Valentine and Caty Oyler and Abraham and his wife.

Polly Oyler

Most Precious. Her same Hand written letter is on the next Page.

The house pictured below was built by Valentine Oyler II in the 1780's. It was located near Roanoke, Virginia in Franklin, county. Where this house once stood is now a pasture field. Accoring to Russell Oyler Hannabas there was an existing wall still standing until about 1990 of this old house. The land owner was afraid the wall would fall on some of his cattle, so he had the bricks and timbers bulldozed over the edge of a hill. The brick on the shelf below is from this house.

The Oylers and Wysongs inter-married, and it is believed the Wysongs built this house because they were brick masons.

"THE OYLER HISTORY" Written by Ellen M. Reed - 1959 (Now Deceased)
Has been partly recorded in the "History of Wabash County, Illustrated 188
Parts of the following were taken from pages 467, 480, 484, 489.
Edward Oyler, father of Ellen Reed, assisted in this brief history.

(24)

Lewis Oyler was born in Franklin Co. Virginia in ~~1800~~ 1798. He died April 10, 1856. Mary (Rupe) Oyler, wife of Lewis Oyler was born in Virginia, Nov. 19, 1798, died June 26, 1875. Both are buried in the old section of the Ogan Cemetery, just north of the Mississinewa river on St. Road 13 in Wabash County, Indiana.

They were the parents of 6 children. Wiley, who died an infant. Henry Oyler and John Valentine Oyler, Lucy Oyler Akers, Paulina Oyler Shortridge and Catherine Oyler Strait.

Lewis Oyler came with his family to Randolph County, Indiana, in 1833. They came with a three horse team and wagon and settled in the Clayton neighborhood west of Winchester, Indiana, but stayed a very short time. He came to the town of Lagro in Wabash County in 1834 and worked on the Erie Canal. After a few years they moved to Miami County near Peoria and the Indian village. He was a very good friend of the Indians and was a friend of Frances Slocum.

On April 5, 1840, Lewis Oyler built his cabins on his farm in Waltz Township, Wabash County, Indiana, just north of Somerset on Sec. 21, Twsp. 26, Range 6. With the help of several men from Miami Co. a group of 8 men made 2 cabins in one day. The logs and poles had been cut and hauled to the ground, the clapboards and floor-puncheon had been prepared and brought to the spot. The 8 men notched the logs, raised them and built the cabins, putting on the ribs, weather-boards, the weight-poles, etc. The four "corner-men" had to come down every time and help notch and raise the logs since there were only four men beside the corner men and four men could not do it alone. As there were not enough settlers in the neighborhood to raise the cabins, the friends from Miami County came. They walked from Peoria following the river to the farm where they were clearing the land and getting it ready for the cabins, going home each day. John V. Oyler was a boy at that time walking also. He slipped and fell on a hill and hurt his leg. It left him lame and he always walked with a cane.

The cabins were built just above the old spring to the northwest. The spring is still the only source of water after 119 years, but has been piped into the house now standing, which was built in 1880 a little south west of the log cabins. There is a large bank barn east of the spring by the creek, called "goose creek".

Lucy Oyler Akers was the mother of Mrs. Nettie Albers, Mrs. Cora Ewing and Orange Akers.

Cora Akers Ewing and Edward Oyler are the last 2 grandchildren living of Lewis and Mary Oyler at this time June 1, 1959, as far as known. Most of the Oyler families are buried in the Ogan Cemetery.

John V. Oyler was the father of Melvina Oyler Long, William, Lewis, John R., Mary Jane and Edward.

John Valentine Oyler was born in Franklin Co. Virginia to Lewis and Mary (Rupe) Oyler on Oct. 26, 1827 and died 1908. He came to Indiana in 1833 with his parents and settled north of Somerset with them on April 5, 1840. He did not receive an education until nearly grown and then it was very little. As he had injured a leg when a boy and always walked with a cane, his parents called him sickly and didn't send him to school. He helped to clear and work the farm with his father. When he married he still lived on the home place and all his children were born there as were all his son Edward's children born there also.

In 1857 John Valentine Oyler married Elizabeth Coble, who died and left a son Milo who died as a young man and left one daughter, Melvina Oyler, who married John W. Long. They were the parents of 2 sons, Milo and Walter Long.

On Feb. 25, 1862, John Valentine Oyler married Adeline Brady, born Jan. 30, 1838, died 1915, daughter of John and Jane (Dean) Brady. They were the parents of five children - William G., Lewis, Mary Jane, John R. and Edward Oyler.

William G. Oyler married Florence Ogan, who were the parents of Carrie Oyler, Hazel Oyler Roser, Thurston Oyler and Bess Oyler Kimple.

Lewis Oyler married Jennie Neff and were the parents of Reed Neff Oyler and John Peter Oyler.

Paulina Oyler Shortridge was the mother of John and Lawshee Shortridge and Dr. Rosetta Shortridge.

Henry Oyler never married and died out west. Catherine Oyler Strait - ?

Mary Jane Oyler died when a young lady and was never married.

John R. Oyler married Ida Roser and were the parents of Marjorie Oyler Kepner.

Edward Oyler (Born Dec. 17, 1877) married Sarah E. Morts and were the parents of Lois Oyler Bolinger, Frances Oyler Frick, Howard Oyler, Merritt Oyler, Ellen Oyler Reed, Dorothea Oyler Melick and Kathryn Oyler Kem

THE OYLER ANCESTRY AS PERTAINS TO MYRON EVERETT OYLER

Conrad Oeller (Oyler, Eyler, Eiler or Eular) born in Germany July 16, 1675 (or 1690, I have conflicting dates) died in 1751. Conrad and wife, Margareta arrived in Philadelphia, September 11, 1729.

From this union they had 6 children and one was a son, Valentine Oyler I. Born in Europe in 1722. Valentine married Appollenia (Polly) and from this union was born Valentine II about 1754 at Manheim, York County, PA. He married Mary M Arndt (born 1758) about 1781.

Valentine Oyler II and Mary (Arndt) Oyler had eleven children and one of them was Lewis Oyler (born 1798-died April 10, 1856) Franklin County, Virginia and he married Polly (Rupe) Oyler who was born in Virginia, November 19, 1798 and died June 26, 1875. Lewis and Mary Oyler had three children out of which a son, John Valentine Oyler, was born in Franklin County Virginia on Oct. 26,1827 and died in 1908 (age 81). Lewis Oyler came with his family to Randolph County, Indiana with his parents in 1833. They came with a three horse team and wagon and settled in the Clayton neighborhood west of Winchester, Indiana, but stayed a very short time. Lewis came to the town of Lagro in Wabash County, Indiana in 1834 and worked on the Erie Canal. After a few years they moved to Miami County, Indiana near Peoria and the Indian village. With the help of several men from Miami County a group of eight (8) men made 2 cabins in one day. The logs and poles had been cut and hauled to the ground, the clapboards and floor-puncheons had been prepared and brought to the spot. The 8 men notched the logs, raised them and built the cabins, putting on the ribs, weather-boards, the weight poles, etc. The four "corner-men" had to come down every time and help notch and raise the logs since there were only four men beside the corner men and four men could not do it alone. As there were not enough settlers in the neighborhood to raise the cabins, the friends from Miami County came. They walked from Peoria following the river (mississinewa) to the farm where they were clearing the land and getting it ready for the cabins, going home each day. John Valentine Oyler was boy at that time walking also. He slipped and fell on a hill and hurt his leg. It left him lame and he always walked with a cane.

John V. did not receive an education until grown and then it was very little. He had injured his leg as a boy and always walked with a cane. His parents called him sickly and did not send him to school.

In 1857 John Valentine Oyler married Elizabeth Coble, who died and left a son< Milo, who died as a young man and left one daughter, Melvina Oyler, who married John W. Long. They were the parents of 2 sons, Milo and Walter Long.

On February 25, 1862, John Valentine Oyler married Adeline Brady born January 30, 1838 and died in 1915-daughter of John and Jane (Dean) Brady. John V. and Adeline were the parents of five children- four boys and one girl. Of these boys a son named Lewis Oyler was born November 24, 1865 and died of typhoid fever on October 9, 1910, aged 44years 15 months and 15 days.

On April 6, 1892 Lewis Oyler married Jennie Neff and to this union was born 2 sons, Reed Neff oyer and John Peter Oyler.

Reed Oyler was born April 24, 1894 and died August 23, 1987. Reed married Christina Harriet (Petterson) Oyler, the oldest daughter of Charles Augustus Petterson and Mary Ann (Pearson) Petterson. From the marital union of Reed and Christina five sons were born-Lewis Richard (10-10-1920), Lowell Emerson (8-9-1922), Myron Everett (12-1-1923), Maurice Edwin (9-28-1928), and Paul Marvin (10-13-1935).

Myron Everett married Betty Jean (Brown) Oyler, the daughter of Frank and Alta Brown, on December 8, 1946. Of this union was born three daughters and a son. Listed below according to their ages-

Sharon Kay born December 26, 1947 was married to Gary Vernon Johnson on October 23, 1971. They have one daughter Jeanette Kay and two sons, Nicholas Vernon and Benjamin Jacob. Nicholas married Beth (Vanitvelt) April 27, 2002. They all live in Flint, Michigan.

Gloria Lavonne was born September 21, 1949. She married Robert Dale Krull on April 26, 1969. They reside in Riverside, California. They have 2 daughters Krista (husband Sam Clark) and they have a son, Conner, who is the first great grand child of Myron and Betty Oyler. Alyssa (Krull) Lance is married to Dan Lance. These all live in Riverside, CA.

Susan Beth was born September 26, 1953 and she married Timothy Noel Moore on April 26, 1980.They reside at Columbus, Indiana and they have 2 daughters and a son. Heide is a Junior at Purdue University. Adam is a senior at Columbus North, and Heather is an Eighth grader.

Brenton Eugene was born October 13, 1958 and lives in Yorktown, Indiana.

A more complete detailed history of the Oylers can be found in the Mormon archives starting with Conrad Oyler in the year 1690 of which we have a record.

Delphi residents celebrate

Christmas in 19th century way

DELPHI, Ind. (AP) — After dark the curving tree-lined State Road 25, east of Lafayette is emblazoned in holiday lights. Big bulbs weigh heavy on bushes. Light-up Santa Clauses compete with glowing nativity scenes. Electric North Stars hover above two-car garages.

But the home of Calvin and Rachael Wolf in rural Carroll County east of Delphi is wrapped in calm. There are no blinking bulbs — just the splash of a porch light on a cold winter lawn.

Inside the warm century-old white farm house a guest finds more simplicity. Bright clear walls, a dining room of blond oak. There is no trimmed evergreen, no cinnamon scented candles, no wreath above the hearth.

Decorating for Christmas is not their way. The Wolfs are an Old German Baptist family that doesn't "celebrate" Christmas. They recognize it as a purely religious event.

Walk into their home and you forget the crowded stores, the anxiety of gift buying, the blizzard of Christmas cards.

Quite simply, Christmas is about the birth of Christ, Calvin, 50, says. It has nothing to do with trees and Santa Claus — what Rachael calls pagan rituals.

As you speak with Rachael, 48, and Calvin you see in them the 19th-century ways they live to preserve. Rachael's head is covered in a small cotton cap called a prayer veil. Her hand-stitched calico dress is from a simple pattern. Calvin wears a plain white shirt and dark trousers and vest. His beard is long and graying.

Their modern yet modestly furnished living room is quiet in the absence of television and a stereo. From this peaceful place they speak emphatically about Christmas and their faith.

December 25 is like any day of worship throughout the year, Calvin says. He is father of five children, a carpenter and a minister at the Old German Baptist Church of Deer Creek in Camden.

It is the same except the Wolfs will begin the day reading the Christmas story. Not the one about Saint Nick and sugar plum visions, but the story of a child lying in a manger as told by Luke in the King James Bible.

Later that morning a regular two-hour service begins in the stark, plain church house.

Men sit on one side of the church, women on the other. The pews are made of hard wood. So is the floor that parishioners kneel upon. There is no altar, no stained glass, not one cross, not one potted poinsettia. Prayers and a cappella hymns are offered. The three ministers of the church share liturgy.

After services the family gathers for a traditional Christmas feast — turkey, dressing, a fresh Christmas pie. They share a few small gifts — games for the grandsons, school clothes for the teen-age children and needed household items for the son and daughters now living on their own.

"I think our people feel that Christmas has become commercial and that the true meaning of Christmas has been lost," Rachael says. "It seems that all some people can think about is the festivities. It saddens our people."

Old German Baptists trace their roots to Germany and the founding of the Church of the Brethren in 1709. Ironically the festive American traditions of Santa Claus and Christmas trees come from German culture. Perhaps that exploitation of Christmas caused Old German Baptists to live their simple, separate lives, Calvin says.

"We just know that if we get caught up in all the things of the world we get further away from God," he says. "We've seen it happen so much."

Old German Baptists drive cars, light their homes with electricity and heat their water with microwave ovens.

They wear plain clothes, also called the uniform. Men keep their beards long, wearing plain white shirts and dark trousers. Their hats are black wool felt with rounded crowns and broad brims. Women cover their heads with prayer veils in reverence to God and in submission to men. They stitch their own simple floral patterned dresses.

"The uniform is the glue that holds us together," Howard Oyler says. The 74-year-old man is Rachael's father and an elder minister at the Camden church. "If we were to engage in behavior or go to places that we shouldn't go we would feel conspicuous."

The simple clothes are an integral part of the faith and the culture of Old German Baptists, Rachael says.

"It can be a protector," she says of the uniform. "It has a tendency to help us remember the commandments and to follow them."

"We try to maintain a heritage we have had handed to us by our forefathers," Calvin says. "It is something that has been intact for years and years."

The contrasts between the old world and the modern ways have grown starker, even in the last 40 years, Rachael says.

"It's harder and harder to stay out of the world system," Calvin says. "It has a pulling effect. But we have our faith."

Kingston, Ross County, but in 1860 left there and came to Bloomingville, where he still resides. He has, by close application to his profession, acquired a large and lucrative practice. Dr. Green has reared a family of seven children, six now living.

Samuel H. Iler, son of William and Ann (Berry) Iler, was born in Hocking County, Jan. 30, 1851. He was thrown on his own resources when quite young, but succeeded in getting a fair English education in the public schools. He was married Jan. 4, 1872, to Emma, daughter of Basil and Margaret A. Black. They have five children—Minnie, Lillie, Dellie, Joseph N. and Noah W. After his marriage Mr. Iler settled on the farm where he now lives, on section 6, Benton Township. He makes a specialty of fruit, taking great pride in his work, and being one of the largest fruit-growers in the county. He joined the Disciple church in March, 1872. Politically, he is a Democrat.

Solomon Parrish, born in Baltimore County, Md., July 24, 1806, is a son of Joshua and Sarah Parrish. His parents moved to Belmont County, Ohio, in 1809, where he was reared and educated. He commenced to learn the blacksmith's trade when seventeen years of age and worked at it in Belmont County till January, 1833. He then went to Tuscarawas County and remained till 1854. In October of the latter year he came to Hocking County and located in Benton Township. He has made farming his chief occupation, and now owns 252 acres of fine land. Feb. 21, 1828, he married Elizabeth Jones, a native of Montgomery County, Md. They are the parents of ten children, five only now living—Amanda, born Sept. 30, 1832; Thomas, Oct. 7, 1834; Marion, Dec. 23, 1839; Abraham R., Sept. 19, 1842, and Esther V., Sept. 24, 1847. Mr. and Mrs. Parrish joined the Methodist Episcopal church at West Union, Tuscarawas County, March 12, 1837. Their family are all members of the church here.

Emery Fisk Redfern, M. D., son of Uriah and Jane (Murphy) Redfern, was born in Jackson, now a part of Vinton County, June 4, 1842. He lost both his parents when a child and went to live with Isaac Dunkle, remaining with him till twenty years of age. July 31, 1862, he enlisted in Company V, Ninetieth Ohio Infantry. He participated in twenty-one battles and skirmishes, the more prominent being Perryville, Stone River, Chickamauga, and with Sherman to the sea. He was discharged June 13, 1865, having been in the service nearly three years and never having been off duty. Aug. 9, 1862, he married Martha Nichols, daughter of Sources of Basaltic volcanism: Basaltic lavas are the most widespread (if indirect) samples of the chemistry of the Earth's mantle. We have a range of projects involving uses of the isotopic composition of oxygen as a monitor of the presence and abundance of crustal materials (both subducted and from the existing lithosphere) as components to the sources of basaltic lavas. Oxygen isotopes offer unusual constraints on these issues because oxygen is the only element that is present in nearly equal abundances in most natural solids, melts, and fluids, and the isotopic composition of oxygen is highly sensitive to fractionations that occur at or near the Earth's surface-therefore discriminating between materials that have resided in the crust and those that were produced by differentiation within the mantle. Recent developments in this program include study of global geochemical variations of mid-ocean ridge basalts, an examination of the impact crustal contamination has on high-magnesium Icelandic basalts, detailed study of the geochemistry of central american arc lavas, and study of samples recently recovered by drilling from deep within Mauna Kea on the island of Hawaii.

Origin of 'exotic' mantle melts: Ultramafic mantle nodules frequently contain small inclusions of silicate glass that are compositionally exotic when compared to the range of basaltic magmas typically produced by mantle melting. The origin of these inclusions is uncertain, and perhaps diverse; one plausible origin for some such compositions is by partial melting of subducted crustal rocks and sediments. We have conducted several studies of the oxygen isotope composition of such melts using ion microprobe methods, turning up evidence of a close relationship of silicic mantle glasses to subducted upper-crustal materials in two suites of subduction-zone related nodules. This work will continue in the future with comparisons to suites of compositionally exotic melt inclusions from non-subduction zone environments, and testing of these results with alternate methods (e.g., in situ laser fluorination).

Experimental study of oxygen isotope fractionations among minerals and silicate melts: A large and longstanding body of research has been conducted on the oxygen isotope

We focused our research in two areas: reproduction and veterinary endocrinology. In terms of repr we are investigating how the fetus signals the mother that it is time for delivery. This involves the identification of endocrine signals, where they originate, and the way they function. The core of ou hypothesis is that the fetal intestine produces a hormone-like substance (serotonin) capable of reg pregnancy. Serotonin is secreted into fetal blood from the fetal intestine. During pregnancy, fetal s promotes the growth of placenta. However, at the end of gestation, there is a withdrawal of serotor fetal blood which causes arrest of placental growth and placenta detachment. A partial failure of th mechanism may cause retention of placenta in the postpartum female. Identification of the site of t allow is to develop a new treatment for retained placenta not only in cows and mares, but also in v
This kind of research involves laboratory work with cell culture systems, cell proliferation assays, histochemistry, biochemistry, isolated organs, cows, sheep, and laboratory animals. In the area of endocrinology, we concentrate our effort on the development of diagnostic techniques for the iden pituitary gland tumors that may affect the functioning of the adrenal axis and pancreas in dogs and
This research implies collaboration with clinicians and an endocrine laboratory.

Will of Adam Fox, written in German, Frederick Co, VA.
Augusta Co, VA land records.
"The Rousch Family in America", Dr. L.L. Rausch

RECORDS OF ADAM FUCHS

Adam Fuchs (Fox) is believed to have immigrated from Germany to Pennsylvania. Following a short stay in Pennsylvania, he moved to Augusta County, Virginia, where he settled. The part of Augusta County where Adam lived later became Frederick County and later, after his death, became Shenandoah County.

Pennsylvania records of Adam Fuchs:

There were several men with the name of Adam Fox or Adam Fuchs in Pennsylvania and Virginia in the 1700's:

 A Johan Adam Fox arrived in Philadelphia aboard the Davy in 1738.

 Johanna Adam Fuchs, age 20, arrived in Philadelphia aboard the Loyal Judith with a group of Palatines on 2 September 1743. The ship came from the port of Rotterdam. The name was also listed as Adam Fux on one passenger list.. Among Adam's fellow passengers is only one familiar name, that of Andoni Kapel also listed as Andoni Kappel. Ten years later, Adam would sell his Virginia land to a John Koppel.

 Yost Fox (also known as Jost Fuchs) arrived in Philadelphia aboard the Francis and Elizabeth on 21 September 1742 and died in Berks County, Pennsylvania in 1763. Berks County is the likely first home of Adam Fuchs in America. Yost's only son Adam was named administrator of Yost's estate by his mother, Anna Elizabeth, widow and relict, renounced on account of "her great infirmity through age". Our Adam seems to have been in Virginia for at least 10 years before this date and so it seems unlikely that Yost was the father of Adam Fuchs Sr., but he may have been related.

 Johan Adam and Johann Henrich Fuchs arrived in Philadelphia aboard the "Two Brothers" in 1749.

 An Adam Fox lived in Colebrookdale Township, Berks County and left awill. Since the records indicated that this Adam had a brother Matthias, he could not have been the son of Yost Fox, who had only one son according to his will. This Adam is probably the same Adam Fox mentioned in the records of the New Hanover Lutheran Church, which is located in Montgomery County. Montgomery County borders Berks County. According to these church records, Johan Adam Fuchs was born 1 May 1716 and died 1 July 1791. His wife was Anna Margaretha, born 1719 and died 2 April 1777. Johan Adam and Anna Margaretha had a son named Mathias and Mathias, in turn had a son named Adam who was born 13 January 1755.

 An Adam Fox served with the Virginia Continental line during the Revolutionary War and was killed in action.

Regardless of which Adam is ours, it seem very possible that our Adam first settled in Berks

48

County, Pennsylvania before moving on to Virginia. We know, for example, that Elizabeth Derrick's family lived in Berks County before their move to Virginia. Elizabeth's maternal ancestors, the Dunkelbergers and Hauers, were also Berks County families. Other families associated with the Fox family in Virginia, that also appear in Berks County records, include Eiler (Iler), Snavely (Schneblis), and Kelchner families.

Adam Fuchs' will was signed by three former residents of Berks County. The three signers were John Derrick (Adam Jr.'s father-in-law), Henry Kelchner and Mark Eiler. Henry Kelchner was the son of Michael Kelchner and John Derrick's cousin. The Eilers (Ilers) were associated with Adam Fox Sr. in Virginia.

Some miscellaneous Berks County records:

 Simon Derrick arrived in Philadelphia on 27 October 1738 aboard the St. Andrew. Simon was the father of John Derrick and the grand father of Elizabeth Derrick, wife of Adam Fox Jr. Most of the passengers aboard the St. Andrews were from the Upper Palatinate region of Germany. Simon settled in Berks County, Pennsylvania in the area northwest. of 0ley township and also lived near Greenwich township.

 At Atolhoe (Tulpehocken), Eva Margaretha, was born 17 October 1751 and baptized 1 November 1751 to Adam Fox. Sponsors were Wilhelm Kayser and wife.

 Adam Eiler, Casper Sneavely (Schneblis) and Jacob Fox were on the 1752 tax list of Bern Township. A Jacob Fox was naturalized in Bern Township on 4 April 1762. An Adam Eiler age 53 arrived in Philadelphia aboard the Friendship on 12 October 1742. Caspar Sneabeli age 43, arrived in Philadelphia aboard the Francis & Elizabeth on 30 August 1743, one year after Yost Fox arrived on the same ship.

 Yost Fox, Henry Fox and Jacob Fox were on the 1752 tax list of Heidelberg Township. * A John Adam Fuchs was naturalized in Heidelberg Township on 21 September 1765. A Jacob Fuchs arrived in Philadelphia aboard the Albany on 11 September 1728.

 Adam Fox and John Snably (Schneblis) were on the 1752 tax list of Tulpehocken Township.

 Adam Euler (Eiler) granted letter of administration 23 April 1755 to Anna Dilla Eulerin widow and relict (Berks County Administration Book 1 page 36).

Early Virginia records of Adam Fuchs:

The first record of Adam Fox in Virginia was an application for a land warrant made in Augusta County on 3 Oct 1752. Mark Ilor (Eiler) applied for a warrant on the same day. The first record of Mark Ilor in Virginia was as a chain carrier on 1 May 1751.

 Adam soon sold his land on Stony Creek and moved about eight miles south to Mill Creek. This area of Virginia changed from Augusta County to Frederick County in 17?? and to Shenandoah County in 1772. Adam was living on the Mill Creek land when he died in 1769.

 William Bean, Survey (no dates) 400a on Stoney Creek adjacent Adam Fox, John Bayly

 Peter Stover 10/30/1752-12/14/1753 375a Stoney Creek adjacent Robt Scarbrough & Adam Fox.

 Christian Funkhouser, 4/4/1753-5/10/1753 260a Stoney Creek in Augusta County adjacent Adam Fox

 Jacob Bordan, Survey 5/9/1753, 400a NW side of Stoney Creek, adjacent Adam Fox

 Edward Rian of Augusta County, Survey 5/10/1753 400a Stoney Creek and Laurel Spring adjacent Adam Fox, John Bayly

 Volume II Page 168: Nichol Witsell, assignee of Adam Fox of Augusta County; Warrant application 4 Apr 1755; Survey date 3 Dec 1753; 304 acres including his (Adam Fox) plantation bought of Jacob Boyer on McNishes Run, a branch of N. River Shenandoah.

 Volume III Page 35: Joseph Pugh (Jr.), assignee of John Koppel (in 1753), assignee of Adam Fox of Augusta County; Warrant application 30 Oct 1752; Survey date 23 Dec 1752; 300 acres on both sides of Stony Creek, a branch of N. River Shenandoah.

Partial translation of agreement written in German: 11 April 1753, Johannes Kaffel, have bought of Adam Fox a place on Stony Creek in the name Clay Lick. Signed: Adam Fuchs (GS) One witness: Adolph Eiler.

On 7 Sep 1778 Catrin Fox executrix of Adam Fox dec'd made deposition that above agreement was complied with.

On 28 February 1763 Adam purchased 300 acres of land on the south side of Benjamin Allen's Mill Creek from John Hill for 5 shillings. The deed was recorded in Frederick County Court on 1 March 1763. Other records of this land included:

 John Hill purchased 300 acres on Benjamin Allen's Mill Creek. The warrant application was dated 13 May 1749 and the survey date was 23 June 1749.

 Mary Hill requested a deed be issued to her next eldest son. The original assignee, James Hill, was now deceased.

These Virginia records were discovered by Eugene Peterson, a Derrick researcher (now deceased). Mr. Peterson has deduced the following location of Adam Fox's land:

 Mark Ilor lived 1.5 miles north of Forestville.

 Henry Kelchner nephew of John Derrick lived 2 miles north of Forestville but westerly of Ilor.

 John Derrick adjoined Kelchner's north border.

 Jacob Derrick, John's brother, adjoined John on the west.

(50)

 Adam Fox lived just west of Kelchner and Derrick.

Benchmarking in Their Blood

SAN JOSE, CA

by Katharine Delahaye Paine

This month's profile:

Tracy Eiler

In this column we profile people whose passion for measurement has helped them to grow their budgets while advancing their careers and gaining influence in their organizations—and, after all, isn't that what most of us want?

For Tracy Eiler, Vice President of Corporate Communications at Business Objects, measuring results comes as naturally as gardening, and she's equally passionate about both. No wonder we've been friends for so long; we are passionate about the same things.

Tracy is like some over-prolific perennial, always pushing the boundaries of her territory in the measurement garden. You just can't keep Tracy's mind in check. Before you can say "Ou est le bibliotheque?," she'll ask, "Can we take this program to Europe?" Before most of us knew the difference between a newsgroup and a chat room, she was asking, "What about measuring the Internet?"

But it isn't just hunger for knowledge that motivates Tracy. She knows that with the right metrics, her programs just keep getting better and better. She's one of those rarities in Silicon Valley, a woman in PR who's been at her job through more than one recession and seen her responsibilities grow almost as fast as the heirloom roses in her front yard. And with good reason.

During her seven years at Business Objects, she's guided its reputation from an unknown French software company to the largest and most successful business intelligence provider in the world, with a 50% lead in BI software license revenue over its closest competitor. Tracy now oversees a communications program that talks to more than 15,500 customers in over 80 countries. And, this month, Bernard Liautaud, Business Objects' CEO, was named to BusinessWeek's Stars of Europe list, which honors 50 executives who are at the forefront of

Juneau Youth Court aims to correct offenders

Law and order: Judge Meachum, from left, Eiler and Zoe Olson h mock case Saturday i Juneau Youth Court a Dimond Courthouse.

"All rise, the Juneau Youth Court is now in session," bailiff Michael Petershoare intones, and everyone stands as three sober-faced, robed teen-age judges enter the courtroom.

The mock sentencing held Saturday at Dimond Courthouse gave the public and prospective young volunteers a rare glimpse into the otherwise confidential process court, which is staffed by youths age 12 to 18.

"It's a lot more than being a mini-lawyer," said volunteer Weston Eiler, a Douglas High School senior who served as one of the judges Saturday. " learning to make a difference and serve your community."

The court handled about 45 cases in the past months, its first active year after a year of preparation. Cases include offenses referred JDHS such as assaults and vandalism that ot would lead to school suspension, underage d by youths 14 or younger referred by District Peter Froehlich, and first-time misdemeanors such as shoplifting referrec probation officers.

It's one of an estimated 800 such courts nationwide, which handle about cases a year, the Washington, D.C.,-based Urban Institute said in a repc spring.

Defendants participate voluntarily, and in Juneau they must plead guilty being referred to the youth court for sentencing. Some youth courts alsc trials for defendants who have pleaded not guilty.

About 10 students in Juneau serve as lawyers, judg bailiffs after a couple of weeks of training and pass exam.

IOWA STATE UNIVERSITY

Millie Rose Odeen Eiler

Tipton, Iowa

Brick Section C - Row 28

The lady I'm honoring is Millie Rose Odeen Eiler, better known to most as "Mom" or "Grandma Millie".

Her attibutes as a person are so numerous that I'm sure I'll never mention all of them. To me, "Mom" is truly a hero; my mentor. She has "been it all" through the years: wife, mother of 4, listener, counselor, advisor, teacher, bookkeeper, farmer, and a best friend! Her standards are set high, her morals run deep and her belief in Christ is strong. These values were taught to her children. Mom's "can do" determination, positive thinking and just plain hard work have helped her get through some real tough situations and earned her success. I admire and respect what she's done with her life. She believes in setting goals and is not afraid of hard work to attain them. Honesty and fairness are major values in her game of life.

Family is a top priority in her life and no matter what the situation, we always felt the warmth of Mom's love and support. She is and has always been there when we needed her and is a person I look up to; not just because she's my Mom, but because of what she is - the whole person, the whole package.

She's much too humble to consider herself a hero and would never think her name should be included on a brick in a hall of heroines - little does she realize the major impact she's had on so many lives: her children and grandchildren, family and many, many friends! Mom's ability to laugh and smile are contagious and she has a heart of gold. She spends little time thinking of herself; she is a giver and an example of unselfishness.

My Mom is just plain and simple a one of a kind, super great person! Adding her name to the plaza of heriones is such a small token of the graditude and respect I have for her. "Mom, enough said. Just know that to me you are a hero and my best friend". 4/27/94

Ryan Eiler

Ryan Eiler

Major
Helath and Human Performance

Why did you choose to attend UWRF?
The football camps that I attended while in high school were a major influence. The school isn't too big, but not too small either.

Why did you choose to play football at UWRF?
The coaches and the winning attitudes here.

What is your most memorable high school football moment?
My junior year when we broke our 27 game losing streak.

What is your most memorable college football moment?
When we beat UW-Whitewater in 1998 for a share of the conference title.

What are your individual and team goals for the 2001 season.
My team goal is to win the conference title, and my individual goal is to stay healthy.

What are your hobbies.
Working out and fishing

Who are your role models.
My parents and the old guys on the team when I was a freshman.

What are your career goals.
Teach physical education and health, and to coach football.

Who have been your biggest football supporters?
My parents, brothers and sister, and my high school coach, Jim Benick.

Coach John O'Grady Comments.

For the last two years, APA master's student MELISSA EILER, has served on the Board of Directors of the League of Women Voters (LWV). This year, her primary project was to re-create the LWV website (www.leagueofwomenvoterssf.org) to include a range of highly accessible and pertinent information. She is also serving on a committee to strategize the expansion of the Smart Voter project (www.smartvoter.org), a web-based service which allows Bay Area voters to access customized, non-partisan voting information.

JENNIFER TIBERGHIEN, ICE doctoral candidate, is conducting fieldwork in Japan. She is researching the influence of international norms on sexual violence in Japan and has been doing participant observation in workshops and symposiums on sexual harassment and domestic violence. She presented her preliminary fieldwork results at an ICE conference in Tokyo this March.

CARLA PUGH, a general surgeon and third year C&TE doctoral student, is conducting a research project at the School of Medicine that involves the evaluation of a simulator developed to help medical students learn specific physical examination skills. She recently received a $6,000 grant from the office of technology to build the stimulator. .

Learning, Design, and Technology master's students, DAVID SLATER (right) and KATHY GRAVES, and Curriculum and Teacher Education master's candidate JAMES BEQUETTE (center) began internships winter quarter at Extempo, Inc., a Redwood Valley start-up. The three SUSE students are working on a two-quarter project that will help Extempo develop web-based interactive learning guides that will showcase the firm's foray into the education market.

HOOVER INSTITUTION

Keith E. Eiler

Keith E. Eiler, a research fellow at the Hoover Institution, is a retired lieutenant colonel of the United States Army and a practicing historian.

His academic work has centered on military history. He recently authored a major treatise on U.S. economic and military mobilization in World War II titled Mobilizing America: Robert P. Patterson and the War Effort, 1940–1945, a book that received the Hoover Institution's Uncommon Book Award for 1999. Shifting the focus of his research from the home front to military operational aspects of the war, he currently is preparing a study of the U.S. War Department's most prominent strategist, General Albert C. Wedemeyer, an officer who later commanded U.S. forces in the China theater and whom Eiler once served as aide-de-camp.

Eiler graduated from the United States Military Academy in 1944. He subsequently served during World War II with the Third U.S. Army in Europe, where he was wounded in the Battle of the Bulge, and during the Korean War with the Eighth U.S. Army in Korea.

He holds masters' degrees in civil engineering (Harvard University) and international affairs (George Washington University) and a doctorate in the history of American civilization from Harvard.

Ardis M. "Cookie" Iler, 52, of West Birchard, Fremont, died Thursday, Jan. 6, 2000, in St. Charles Hospital.

She was born April 5, 1947, in Tiffin to Milford Eugene and Hannah (Merinda) Hayward. She married Andrew F. Iler in Las Vegas July 29, 1980.

Surviving are her husband; a daughter, Dawn V. White of Fremont; a stepson, Robert Iler of Fremont; a stepdaughter, Christine Iler of Fremont; two grandchildren; two brothers, Bruce Hayward of Tiffin and Jan Hayward of Bowling Green, Mo.

Her parents preceded her in death.

Mrs. Iler was a 1965 graduate of ColumbianHigh School; was employed by Singer Control as an assembler for 22 years; was manager of the Copper Penny and a member of the St. John's Lutheran Church and of the Fremont Eagles.

Services will be at 10 a.m. Monday at Wonderly-Horvath Funeral Home, Fremont, with the Rev. Ervin Walther officiating. Interment will be in Oakwood Cemetery, Fremont.

Visitation will be 2-4 and 7-9 p.m. Sunday at the funeral home.

Four area educators learned about the changing electric utility industry and toured a Santee Cooper generating station recently as part of a unique experience: The Santee Cooper Energy Educator's Seminar, conducted annually by the state-owned electric and water utility based in Moncks Corner. The four were Ann Diller of Manning High School, Marian Iler and Jan Logan of Pocalla Springs Elementary School and Wendell Robinson of the Turbeville Correctional Institution. Teachers, principals and administrators from across the state completed three four-day seminars this summer, held at Santee Cooper's Wampee Conference in Pionpolis. Seventy-nine educators throughout South Carolina from all grade levels participated. Pictured are: Wendell Robinson, Ann Diller, Barbara Allen, Marian Iler and Jan Logan.

Funeral Services Held Sunday Afternoon For Miss Vert Iler

Funeral services for Miss Verta Iler who died in the Baptist sanitarium, Alexandria, 2 o'clock Saturday morning, February 2, were held Sunday afternoon, 2 o'clock, at the First Presbyterian Church. The Rev. S. B. Williams, pastor, conducted the services, assisted by the Rev. Alwin Stokes, of Ferriday, and the Rev. C. C. Wier and the Rev. A. H. Cullen.

The remains were interred in the Winnfield Cemetery. A large gathering of friends and relatives attended the last rites.

Miss Iler was a native of Tennessee, and came to Winnfield with her family in 1911. For nine years she was stenographer and secretary in the office of Judge Oglesby, and later in the abstract office of P. K. Abel. For some weeks she was failing in health, and was carried to the Baptist sanitarium where all that was possible was done to save her life, but to no avail.

Miss Iler was beloved by all who knew her. She was a faithful member of the Presbyterian Church, and for many years secretary of the Presbyterian Sunday school at Winnfield, which duties she performed until confined to her bed by illness.

The deceased leaves to mourn her passing her mother, Mrs. Ella McAnnally, of Winnfield; and aunt, Mrs. C. A. Baldridge of Alexandria; three half-sisters, Mrs. Keith Jones, New York City; Mrs. Hollace Thompson, Winnfield; and Miss Wallace McAnnally, of Winnfield; also two step-sisters, Mrs. E. J. Johnson of Hot Springs, Ark., and Mrs. W. E. Patrick, of McGee, Ark., and one step-brother, Claud McAnnally, of Wink, Texas. Her father, deceased, was Dr. J. R. Iler, a native of Kentucky.

Lillie Mae C. O'Shields, Laurens

Lillie Mae Cooper O'Shields, 95, devoted and loving wife, mother, grandmother, great-grandmother, and great-great-grandmother went home to be with her Savior and Lord Jesus Christ, May 16, 2001, following a short illness.

She was born Oct. 10, 1905, in Laurens, where she lived until 1990. For the past 11 years she has resided in Hendersonville, N.C., with her daughter and son-in-law, Doris O'Shields Iler and Harry B. Iler Jr. She worked in Clinton in the textile industry, where she retired twice with final retirement at age 78. She is a life-long member of Lucas Avenue Baptist Church in Laurens. She attended Hendersonville First Baptist Church and was a member of Faith Sunday School class during her residency in North Carolina.

Lillie Mae is the wife of the late John Toy O'Shields, mother of the late Evelyn O'Shields Smith, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. B.J. Cooper of Laurens. She was the last survivor of seven brothers and four sisters. She is survived by her daughter, Doris O'Shields Iler; two sons-in-law; six grandchildren; 13 great-grandchildren; and one great-great-grandchild.

Marcus Isler (Eiler, Iler, Ailer Oiler, Hailer)sold Adam Halker land in Dunmore County, Va. in 1773. (Dunmore changed to Shenandoah Co in 1778) "Marcus left this country and died, leaving Adolphus Jonas Isler, his own son, who is living in New Spain" (Natchez Territory)according to court records. Does anyone know the name of the plantation that Marcus Isler sold to Halker?

Mrs. Ella (Garrison Iler) McAnally Succumbs To Long Illness Thursday

Tribute Is Paid Life of Deceased By Friend of Family

By Judge R. W. Oglesby

"Who can find a virtuous woman? for her price is far above rubies. The heart of her husband doth safely trust in her, so he shall have no need of spoil. She will do him good and not evil all the days of her life. She seeketh wool and flax and worketh willingly with her hands. She is like the merchants' ships; she bringeth her food from afar. She riseth also while it is yet night, and giveth meat to her household and a portion to her maidens. She openeth her mouth with wisdom; and her tongue is the law of kindness. She looketh well to the ways of her household, and eateth not the bread of idleness. Her children arise up and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praiseth her."

The above and the other verses of the 31st chapter of Proverbs beginning with the 10th verse, was the basis of the funeral oration made by Rev. Alwin Stokes, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Winnfield, Louisiana, February 1st, 1935, over the remains of the above named dearly beloved citizen.

No more fitting text could have been found and no more fitting life could have been found for such a text. The text fitted her and she fitted the text.

Ella Garrison McAnally was born in Obion County, Tennessee, in the Ebeneezer Community, October 20, 1866, and died at Winnfield, Winn Parish, Louisiana, on January 31, 1935. She sprang from the Garrisons, pioneer citizens of Obion County who, although they believed in the union, when President Lincoln called for volunteers to invade the South, threw their beliefs to the winds and enlisted in the Confederate army. Her uncle was in the same company with my father. He paid the supreme sacrifice at the battle of Perryville where the Avalanche Company was cut literally to pieces.

After four years of heroic fighting and untold suffering those that remained returned to their devastated homes to start life all over again. Coming from such a source, with such a wonderful background, it is easy to understand her admirable qualities.

She grew into beautiful womanhood and married Dr. Iler, a promising young physician who soon sickened and died leaving a young widow and a beautiful little girl baby. To add to her already great load of sorrow, this little girl developed a spinal disease which left her a badly deformed cripple for the rest of her life. The young mother, hoping against hope, took her to all of the great surgeons of the United States in her efforts to check the inroads of a terrible disease. Her life was prolonged for many years and she grew into one of the most beloved characters I have ever known.

After some years, of widowhood, she married Mr. C. F. McAnally who was a widower with three children. To this union were born three children, Madge, Wallace, and Mary Lou. Her step children loved her as if she had been their own mother. This is a true test of genuine goodness. About twenty years ago they moved to Winnfield where the children grew up, went to school, and married. Grandma Standfield, mother of Mrs. McAnally, who came to live with them passed away in 1920. Then followed the passing of the beloved daughter, Verta Iler, to be followed soon after by Mr. McAnally. On top of all this grief her health began to fail, but she carried on uncomplainingly. She worked when she should have been in bed. Too feeble to move about she sat in her chair and did needle work. Thus she carried on as she had always done until she was stricken with the fatal illness and her daughter, Mary Lou, (Mrs. Parker Thompson) took her to her home to care for her.

She was a devout member of the Presbyterian Church and was always ready to serve in whatever capacity she might be useful. Her home was always open to her friends and to those who asked alms she turned not away.

Surrounded by loved ones she passed into the great beyond on the last day of January and her broken body was laid to rest by the side of her loved ones who had preceded her in the Winnfield Cemetery, mourned by a large number of friends. Her grave was covered by many and costly floral offerings sent by friends from every point of the compass.

(Judge R. W. Oglesby, the author of this obituary, was also a native of Obion County, Tn., and served in both the Tennessee and Louisiana legislatures, as District Judge in Winn Parish, and also as an appellate court judge. Submitted by Greggory Ellis Davies, a cousin of Mrs. McAnally, Winnfield, Winn Parish, LA.)

Death of one spouse: May 18, 1880, James Henry Harris died of injuries

Notes for James"Jim" Henry Harris:
Jim Harris and wife Nettie(McKissick) lived at Red Rock on the Madeline Plains(Lassen County) in northeast California where they were cattle ranchers. On the morning of April 15, 1880, Jim was critically injured when coming home with an empty wagon after feeding the livestock. No one knows exactly what happened, but he was thrown from the wagon. Nettie found him on the ground. Getting him into the house with help, there was no doubt that Jim's neck was broken. Nettie's father, Pink, helped to care for Jim and it was decided to get him to Susanville to the doctor's. With a team and wagon and Pink driving, they left on Wednesday a.m., April 28th. The transport was very rough and painful over treacerous terrain to Susanville. Jim was taken to friend Jesse Cole's home and Dr. George Hurley attended to him. Jim's father, E. A. Harris was notified and had come from Colusa (Colusa County) where he lived. Although Jim was unable to write, with the Doctor guiding his hand, Jim signed papers that turned all of his property over to his father, E.A. Harris with John N. White & John P. McKissick as witnesses. Jim died about 4:00 a.m. on May 18, 1880. That fall the Red Rock property was all sold by E. A. to a Colusa family, the Moultons. Nettie and her two babies was left with nothing other than their house, the small preemption claim and a few head of cattle. The Lassen County Superior Court didn't grant title to E. A. till October 12, 1887. E. A. was a wealthy man and this doesn't speak well of his treatment towards his daughter-in-law and grandchildren's financial welfare.

The about digest was taken from the entire story in 'From Red Rock to Ravendale' by Donald T. Garate.

Came to Lassen County to cattle ranch with uncle Jake McKissick. Went by the name of Howard B. McKissick. A discription of his life and death is featured in northern California local history book "From Red Rock to Ravendale". He inherited Uncle Jake's ranches. Howard was about 10 years old when his parents moved into Secret Valley, CA where the main McKissick ranches were located.

Source: The History of Nevada by Sam Davis--Howard B. McKissick, deceased, was one of the prominent ranchers, stockmen and businessmen of California and Nevada; was born at Suisun, California November 02, 1863. He received a common school education, after which he became identified extensively in the cattle business with his uncle, Jacob McKissick, who was one of the respected and well-to-do farmers of California, and who lived until he was ninety-one years of age. As the years wore on, Jacob McKissick died, leaving the property to his heir, Howard B. McKissick, who recognized the need for a good family hotel in Reno. He planned to remodel the opera house into a hotel, and after his (Howard's) death, which occured in 1903, Mrs. (Lulu) McKissick carried out her husband's plans and the hotel was opened July 01, 1908, under the management of Mrs. McKissick.

Source: The History of Nevada by Sam Davis----In addition to managing the hotel, she operates four large stock ranches, comprising seven thousand five hundred acres in Madeline Plains, Secret Valley (California) and in Lassen County, California of which six thousand five hundred acres is agricultural land. Mrs. McKissick is extensively engaged in stock-raising, having about three thousand head of cattle on the various ranches. Howard McKissick was united in marriage to Miss Lulu L. Black on January 10, 1892. Mrs. McKissick is a daughter of Albion Black, one of the prominent men of Lassen County, who had extensive mining and agricultural in California. To this union were born three children, Myrtle M. born March 06, 1893, who died May 03, 1907: Ruth born May 22, 1894, attending Reno high school and Howard Francis born November 18, 1902. Mrs. McKissick and children are members of the Christian Science Church of Reno.

Notes for Myrtle McKissick:
Written to the Reno Evening Gazette May 04, 1907: The Death of Myrtle McKissick--The Angel of Death has but recently hovered over the home of Mrs. Howard B. McKissick and called into that brighter, higher existence her elder daughter, Myrtle. The daily papers have mentioned the fact in the usual formal way and many reading will feel sad; but few, except those who knew her intimately, will realize now how great a loss, not only to her mother and relatives, but also to her friends and all those with whom she came in contact. Myrtle was a child of the most unselfish, self-sacrificing disposition, always cheerful, always considerate, and ready to sacrafice her own pleasure that others might be pleased. She was always planning, not for her own future, but how she could make her mohter's pathway brighter and her declining years more happy. So her loss is a grief deeper than lamentation, deeper than tears. I write this because qualities such as hers are deserving of even greater tribute than I,in my poor way, am able to pay. A FREIND

Private graveside funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at one o'clock from the Plainview cemetery, Macy, for Anna Mae COFFING, seven-year-old daughter of Merritt and Edna (WARNER) COFFING, who died at 11:30 o'clock Saturday night in the McDonald hospital, Warsaw. Death followed an illness of 10 days' duration.

The deceased was born near Macy on January 16, 1935, and had resided there until about a year ago, when the family moved to a farm near Warsaw.

Surviving are the parents; two sisters, Maxine [COFFING] and Bonnie [COFFING]; two brothers, Robert [COFFING] and Lonnie [COFFING], all at home; grandfather, Walter WARNER, Plymouth; and a grandmother, Mrs. Viola COFFING, Fulton.

Tuesday, March 3, 1942

Logansport, Ind., Mar. 3, - - - William Pence MITCHELL, 44, former manager of the Crawfordsville Gas and Fuel Company, and a patient at the Logansport State hospital, committed suicide at the hospital today by firing a .22 calibre bullet into his heart.

Mitchell, patient at the hospital less than a year, obtained the gun by breaking into a storeroom. The weapon had been kept there to kill rats.

Mitchell was a native of Rochester and was a former manager of the Rochester Gas and Fuel Company. A farewell note was addressed to his wife, Gladys [MITCHELL], a resident of Crawfordsville.

Other survivors are three daughters, Mary Ann [MITCHELL] and Catherine [MITCHELL], both of Crawfordsville; Susia [MITCHELL], a student at Gulf Park college, Gulf Port, Miss., father, Charles MITCHELL, now in Oklahoma; and a brother, Fred MITCHELL, Rochester.

Fort Wayne collection named best for genealogy

Still looking for family facts about Uncle Bill and Aunt Marnie? Head for Fort Wayne's Allen County Public Library and its Fred J. Reynolds Historical Genealogy Department. Family Tree magazine has just named it the No. 1 Public Library Genealogy Research Center in the United States.

The collection is the largest of any public library, second in size only to the Family History Library in Salt Lake City, Utah.

The magazine's criteria included accessibility, collection size, census records, special collections and services. The Fort Wayne genealogy center counts more than 100,000 visitors a year.

Morgan,

About myself: I started writing (short stories, poetry ect.) before I started singing then one day a friend of mine suggested I write songs but I could not play any instruments so I started singing. He was a guitar player together we wrote a few songs, soon after I meet some guys at work and we started to jam together in my apartment and I was almost evicted thats when we took it to a studio that was about 15years ago. I have been in two bands scince then and have written alot of songs. I enjoy writing songs and hope to be able to do it for a long time. I am a big horror and scifi movie fan and hope to one day write a movie. But I will never give up the music it is in my soul.

poultry establishment for the BEYER Produce Co., of Rochester. His wife who was Ruth MARTINI, preceded in death several years ago. The survivors are three daughters, Lettie [McMILLEN], of Detroit, Mrs. Reba DuBOIS, of South Bend, Pauline [McMILLEN], of New york, a step-daughter, Mrs. Mabel HUDKINS, of South Bend, and a son Peter McMILLEN of New York.

The body will be brought to the Harrison Funeral home, in Kewanna, where funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon.

Thursday, February 14, 1935

A mother and her son were killed instantly and a daughter died later in Woodlawn Hospital here and the father was slightly injured when an auto in which the family were riding was rammed by an eastbound Chicago and Erie railroad passenger train at a crossing two and half miles southeast of Akron shortly before 9 o'clock Wednesday evening.

The dead are:

Mrs. Emma [SCHROEDER] HOFFMAN, 40 years old.

DeVon HOFFMAN, aged 10.

Willodean HOFFMAN, aged 12

The injured are:

Ralph HOFFMAN, aged 40, minor cuts and bruises.

The dead and injured are members of the Ralph HOFFMAN family who lived on a farm two and half miles southeast of Akron. The Erie railroad bisects the Hoffman farm which lies 600 feet from the main road and the home is reached by a lane. The lane from the home leads to a bridge over the westbound Erie track and onto the east bound track which is on the level of the roadway. The Hoffman home is 150 feet from the overhead bridge.

The Hoffman family at the time of the accident were on their way to Akron with cream to be delivered to a creamery there. The family also planned to get a son DuWayne [HOFFMAN], aged 15, who had been attending a Brethren Sunday School party at the home of a friend.

Mr. Hoffman drove his car directly into the path of the Erie passenger train. The train was the crack New York Flyer No. 2 which is due here at 8:20 p.m. and which was running on time. Mrs. Hoffman was riding in the front seat of a Model A Ford sedan with her husband while DeVon and Willodean were in the back seat.

Mrs. Hoffman's body was found 150 feet east of the crossing while the body of her son was closeby. These bodies were on the south side of the track. The body of Willodean was found 200 feet east of the crossing. It had rolled down a 35 foot embankment and was lying on the West bound track right of way.

Mr. Hoffman saved his life by jumping from his car. He ran to his home where he called his neighbors Harley BUCHER, C. B. HERENDEEN and Charles ILER. These men with other neighbors gathered the dead and injured. Mrs. Hoffman and her son were taken to an undertaking parlor at Akron.

Miss Willodean Hoffman was taken to a doctor's office in Akron where after an examination it was deemed necessary to bring her to the Woodlawn Hospital. The girl had suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries. She was brought to the hospital at 10 o'clock and died at 1:10 a.m. today without regaining consciousness. Mrs. Hoffman died from a fractured skull as did both of the children.

The Erie train was in charge of Conductor Newt ROBY, Marion, Ohio, the oldest conductor on the Erie and at one time a resident of this city, and Engineer William O'LAUGHLIN of Huntington. The train was stopped at the Anthony Cross crossing one-half mile east of the private crossing at the Hoffman farm. The debris of the Hoffman car was still on the pilot of the engine.

The train crew backed to the Hoffman crossing where they rendered all aid that they could to the stricken family. The train did not leave until nearly an hour after the accident had occurred. Erie officials from Huntington came to the scene of the tragedy immediately.

Sheriff Boyd PETERSON and Coroner Dean STINSON were called to the scene of the accident. In the presence of Sheriff Peterson and a neighbor Hoffman said, "I don't know how I got out. I did not hear the train whistle or I did not see the train until I was ready to jump." Hoffman should have been familiar with the movements of the Erie passenger trains.

Hoffman was a fireman on the Erie for 14 years retiring two years ago to go onto the farm after his father Charles HOFFMAN died. He was in charge of the local engine which turned here. The accident is is believed was caused by a fog which blanketed the territory or to vapor which had collected on the glass of the car which thus obstructed Hoffman's vision. The view of the Hoffman crossing however is unobstructed.

Mr. Hoffman was born and reared on the farm where the tragedy occurred which claimed the lives of three members of his family. He had lived in Huntington until two years ago. DeVon and Willodean were born while the Hoffman family resided in Huntington.

Willodean was born on July 28, 1922 and DeVon on November 2, 1924. Mrs. Hoffman was born in Michigan on March 1, 1896 and came to Akron 17 years ago. Her maiden name was SCHROEDER. The Hoffman family are members of the United Brethren Church at Akron. The funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Coroner Dean STINSON plans to hold his inquest within a few days possibly after the funeral of the three victims of the accident. At that time members of the train crew and Mr. Hoffman will be questioned as will others who arrived at the scene a short time after the tragedy occurred.

Clarence FENTERS, aged 50, for many years a resident of Macy died Wednesday morning at 11:30 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. David McKILLEN in Marion. Death was due to a stroke of apoplexy which he suffered an hour previous.

The deceased was born on Oct. 24, 1884, at Deedsville, the son of Philip and Susan FENTERS. Mr. Fenters was a barber and operated a barber shop in Macy for a number of years. He had been employed in tonsorial parlors in Rochester and Peru at various times. During the past few years he has been a traveling salesman.

Five years ago Mr. Fenters moved to Marion to make his home. Twenty-five years ago he was married to Miss Louise STRONG of Akron in a ceremony which was performed in Rochester. Mr. Fenters was a lover of horses and at various times owned race horses, many of which he entered in races at the Indiana State Fair.

Survivors are the widow; two daughters, Mrs. Levon LEDERMAN, Rockford, Ill., and Mrs.
